Global geometric warping function rather than local activation functions in neural networks.